However, the Committee may, on the application of a member of the AGA, withhold information about that member (other than the member's full name) from the register available for inspection, or if the Committee has reasonable grounds for believing the disclosure of the information would put the member at risk of harm.

- 9.5 A member must not:
- a. use information obtained from the register of members of the AGA to contact, or send material to, another member for the purpose of advertising for political, religious, charitable or commercial purposes, unless such use or disclosure is approved by the AGA;

If, after considering all representations made by the member, the Committee decides to apply the sanction or terminate the membership, the Secretary must give the member a written notice of the decision.

A person whose application for membership has been rejected, or whose membership has been terminated or has been sanctioned may give the Secretary written notice of the person's intention to appeal against the decision. A notice of intention to appeal must be given to the Secretary within 1 month after the person receives written notice of the decision.

If the Secretary receives a notice of intention to appeal, the Secretary must, within 1 month after receiving the notice, conduct a vote of all members to decide the appeal by majority of those voting. The vote shall be conducted by post and/or secure internet poll, giving the appellant and the Committee full and fair opportunity to state their respective cases. The membership fee of a member whose membership has been terminated may or may not be refunded at the discretion of the Committee.

- 12.2 All money received by the Association must be deposited as soon as practicable and without deduction to the credit of the Association's bank or other authorised deposit-taking institution account.
- 12.3 The Association must, as soon as practicable after receiving any money, issue an appropriate receipt.
- 12.4 All cheques, drafts, bills of exchange, promissory notes and other negotiable instruments must be signed by 2 members of the Committee or employees of the Association, being members or employees authorised to do so by the Committee.
- 12.5 Notwithstanding the previous clause, the Treasurer is authorised to operate the Association's bank accounts by internet or other like means, and make transactions via direct bank transfer and debit card, with no co-signer, provided that any expenditures or purchases are properly incurred in the running of the Association. The Treasurer shall seek the prior consent of the Committee for any expenditures or purchases by these means that are not petty expenses or already approved by the Committee as budgetted items. Petty expenses are, until the Committee by resolution provides otherwise, expenditures or purchases under $200. The Treasurer may with the approval of the Committee nominate and authorise other members or employees of the Association to receive limited access by debit card to any or all of the Association's accounts. The Treasurer shall ensure that all transactions covered by this clause are reported to the AGA and the Committee in the same way as any other transactions dealt with elsewhere in this Constitution.

12.8 In the event of the AGA being dissolved, the amount that remains after such dissolution and the satisfaction of all debts and liabilities shall be transferred to another organisation with similar purposes which is not carried out for the profit or gain of its individual members.

APPENDIX A: PLAYERS' CODE OF CONDUCT

Tournaments

While playing games, players shall be expected to observe not only the formal rules of the tournament but also the spirit of fair play and co-operation with the organisers. If a dispute arises, players should accept the referee's decision without challenge or rancour. Any appeal against the referee's decision should be made to the Chief Referee or Tournament Disputes Committee after the game.

General behaviour

Throughout the tournament, participants shall behave with courtesy and respect to other players and officials, and conform to the usual standards of decent behaviour and the social customs and conventions of the host nation.

Complaints

Complaints about the behaviour of a participant may be made to any Director of the IGF for transmission to the IGF Ethics Commission. If the complaint is found to be justified and the Ethics Commission is of the opinion that an apology is insufficient, the Commission may apply a sanction.

Repeated infringements at one or more events, or a single infringement of a serious nature, or failure to pass an authorised drug test, or a breach of the laws of the host nation, may at the discretion of the Commission result in the disqualification of the player from the current tournament, or from IGF events for a set period or for life.

Appeals
